

Camcraft is hiring!

If you enjoy teamwork, technology, a great workplace culture and being developed to make an impact on our company, Camcraft is the place for you.

Camcraft is a leading provider of high-precision machined components for on and off-road vehicles, hydraulic controls, aerospace and electric vehicles. Many of our products help our customers improve fuel economy and reduce emissions.

Help Camcraft propel the world as we propel your career!

CNC Manufacturing Engineer/Mastercam Engineer

Engineer 4/5 axis machining process from beginning to end starting with workholding selection/design. Then, moving on to CAM programming and simulation. Working with QC department on inspection process and supporting shop floor personnel during part launch.

Requirements:

Highly proficient using Mastercam for simultaneous 5 axis milling .

Extensive experience designing complex workholding for challenging parts.

Highly knowledgeable on modern cutting tool and toolholding systems.

Sound understanding of GD&T

Hard metal Experience a plus

Vericut experience a plus

Solidworks experience a plus.

Mill/Turn experience a plus

Benefits: We offer medical, dental, vision, paid vacation, paid floating holidays, paid holidays, short and long term disability, 401K with company match, life insurance and much more!

Are you interested in this career opportunity? Please apply online on our website www.camcraft.com